Livestock Taiwan & Aquaculture Taiwan

A highly effective trading platform for global industry leaders and Taiwanese key players to showcase their products and do business with over 20,000 professional visitors from more than 33 countries & regions.

The exhibitions specifically address the issues of livestock and aquaculture production, animal husbandry and all related sectors, from feed production, to animal farming, breeding, animal health, slaughtering solutions, aquatic product processing, egg processing, dairy farming and more.

The shows will be co-located along with Asia Agri-tech Expo & Forum, making them the most comprehensive professional livestock and aquaculture industry B2B trade event in Taiwan. In 2024, the exhibitions moved to ICC Tainan, a more convenient location to host a steadily expanding show.

Market opportunities

- ▾ Food safety and quality are key concerns globally. There is huge demand for antibiotics-free, non-pesticide & non-chemical livestock and aquaculture farming technologies.
- ▾ Environmental sustainability: intensive livestock farming and aquaculture can lead to environmental degradation, which leads to increasing demand for livestock and aquaculture waste management technologies and equipment.
- ▾ Resource constraints: limited availability of land, water and feed resources pose constraints on the expansion of livestock and aquaculture production. This is spurring demand for high density and animal welfare farming equipment.
- ▾ Climate change and weather variability: The extreme weather events negatively affect livestock and aquaculture production yields. Smart livestock and aquaculture total solutions which adapt to these climate shifts is crucial for ensuring food supply security.
